U.S. Army Rapid Capabilities and Critical Technologies Office (RCCTO)
The Army Rapid Capabilities and Critical Technologies Office (RCCTO), or RCCTO, is chartered to develop and maintain integrated modernization architecture by working with the Army Futures Command and other organizations to analyze and verify real-world requirements, defend against vulnerabilities, and develop and field tactical residual combat capabilities to support Army missions. The RCCTO works closely with other Army organizations such as the Army Futures Command and the Program Executive Offices to align under the Military Intelligence Readiness Command (MIRC). Their primary mission is to provide Intelligence derived from the collection and exploitation of foreign material. The core task of the 203D is to establish the Captured Material Exploitation Center (CMEC) in a deployed environment. With a battalion of over 250 Soldiers and 48 different MOSs, each MOS is leveraged in the exploitation of foreign material as Intelligence professionals. For most of the non-MI Soldiers, this is the only time in their career that they will be Intelligence collectors supporting the Intelligence Community. For opportunities within the battalion or for further information, contact the Battalion S1 at 410-278-0448.
